Congressional Affairs.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—The House Committee on the World's Fair discussed to-day the subject, and referred to the sub-committee already appointed two propositions—one presented by Frank of Missouri, providing for the commemorative celebration of the landing of Columbus in 1892, and the fair the following year; and another by Springer of Illinois, proposing that the House proceed to select the site for the fair by ballot on Monday. The sub-committee, which consists of Chandler, Flower and Hitt, was increased by the addition of Wilson of West Virginia and Frank of Missouri.
C. P. Huntington, Vice President of the Central Pacific Railroad, appeared before the House Committee on Pacific Railroads and favored an extension of the time allowed for the settlement of the indebtedness of the Central Pacific Railroad Company, and a reduction of the interest to be paid the Government, as proposed in the Vandever bill. Huntington was asked and replied to many questions by members of the committee.

HOUSE.

The report of the Committee on Elections on the Smith-Jackson case was submitted to the House. After some routine business, the House went into Committee of the Whole on the Customs Administrative bill.

SENATE.

Vest presented the credentials of W. A. Clark and Martin Maginnis as Senators-elect from the State of Montana, and they were read and referred, on Vest's motion, to the Committee on Privileges and Elections.

On his motion, also, the four gentlemen claiming to be Senators-elect were admitted, pending the contest, to the privileges of the floor.

A bill appropriating $500,000 for work at the mouth of the Columbia river was passed.

As 2 o'clock approached Inalls rose to address the Senate in opposition to Senator Butler's bill to encourage the emigration of colored people from the United States.

Talk of a Consolidation.

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 23.—A joint convention of the Knights of Labor and the Progressive Unions met this morning. Roe of the Knights of Labor was elected temporary President and John McBride of the other organization Vice-President. The balance of the other temporary officers were divided.

The Joint Committee on Order of Business reported that no resolution on a consolidation will be considered as adopted until it has received a three-fourths majority of the votes of each organization.

A discussion was opened on the consolidation by John McBride, who strongly favored an open organization.
Roe, on behalf of the Knights of Labor, spoke at length in favor of one organization with two branches.

There was such a wide difference of opinion that the convention adjourned to give the joint committee further time to work.

Federal Appointments.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—The President to-day made the following nominations:

Collector of Customs—John R.
Berry, San Diego, California.

Supervisors of Census—Nevada,
George I. Lammon; Oregon, John H.
Shupe; and W. Strange; Washington,
Will D. Jenkins; New Mexico, Horatio
W. Ladd; Utah, Anas S. Condon.

Steamer Arrival.

By Cable and Associated Press.]

LONDON, Jan. 23.—The steamer Germania, from New York for Liverpool, arrived at Queenstown to-day.

Strange that They Did Not Know.

By Associated Press.]
NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—The California mails to this city are still missing, and the Postoffice authorities do not know definitely where they are. It is believed they are snow-bound. It is now four days since the last San Francisco mail arrived, and it was of the 14th.

THE STORM.

Latest News from all Points Along the Road—Every Prospect that the Road will be Open To-night.
Reports received at this office from various points along the road shows the heaviest fall of snow that has ever occurred in the history of the Central Pacific. There are about 24 feet of snow on the level in Summit Valley, 12 to 18 feet at Emigrant Gap and Cisno and 12 feet at Blue Canyon and Cascado. At Alta, Dutch Flat, Gold Run and Colfax there are 7 feet, and at New England Mills 2 1/2 feet.

On the California and Oregon there are between 6 and 8 feet on the level
from Smith's Station to Middle Creek, and from Southern Station north to Edgewood over the Summit they have from 8 to 10 feet. The cuts the entire distance are drifted bank full.

Between Gold Run and Blue Canyon on the Central Pacific, the snow has been of such depth as to render the old plows entirely useless.

The prospects are favorable for the opening of the road on the Sacramento
Division to-night and on the Sierra Division to-morrow some time. There are about 1,500 men shoveling snow on the Sacramento Division and about 600 on the Shasta Division.

The rotary plow is now at work between Blue Canyon and Shady Run.
In many of the cuts she has been completely buried from sight, as well as the engine next to her.

The plow has done excellent work, and the belief is expressed that if the company had had three or four rotaries instead of one they would have been able to have kept the road open.

The worst trouble that has been encountered is west of Blue Canyon.

Latest From The N. C. O.

Just before going to press word was received that yesterday's train stuck about 15 miles north of Reno where there was plenty of wood and water and is expected here to-morrow.

THE SNOW-BOUND TRAVELERS.

The "Honest Baron" and a Commercial Traveler from Duluth to Make a Tour of the World.

A snow-bound traveling passenger agent, Alfred A. Barotene, who is well known in railroad circles at San Francisco as the "Honest Baron," is a linguist and famous traveler and has just completed a business tour of the continent of Europe. He is at present blockaded at Reno. Among the numerous commercial men traveling westward on the same train is a produce dealer of the zenith city of Duluth, Minn., a native of Cuba, but whose air is that of a Cossack and whose garb is decidedly Russian. The "Honest Baron" and produce dealer on their first meeting, became fast friends.

They separated at Ogden, where the latter went to Salt Lake to take in the institutions of that city. They met again at Reno this morning and the accomplishments of the linguist and traveler prompted the produce dealer to propose a tour of the globe. They are to start from the Baron's headquarters at San Francisco, going to China, Japan, Australia, England, Holland, Belgium, Spain, Italy, Austria, Russia, the German Empire and the French Capital.

The arrangement is a singular incident, growing out of the present snow blockade in the Sierras.

A BUSINESS CHANGE.

The Well-Known Firm of Osburn
& Shoemaker is Dissolved.

The well-known firm of Osburn &
Shoemaker has been dissolved by mutual consent, R. S. Osburn retiring, and hereafter the firm name will be J. S. Shoemaker & Co. Mr. Shoemaker has associated himself with Warner Campbell, who has purchased
Mr. Osburn's interest in the concern.
Mr. Campbell has had twenty years' experience in the drug business, and for a number of years had charge of the large store of W. E. Mayhew in San Francisco. For two years he was located and had charge of a big drug business in Honolulu, having been sent there by a wholesale firm in San Francisco. He is a thorough pharmacist, druggist and chemist and understands every branch of the business, from the mixing of pills to putting up the most difficult prescription. Besides, he is a very pleasant gentleman, as those who have had business with Osburn & Shoemaker for the past year can testify. Mr. Shoemaker is fortunate in getting such a man for a partner, and the GAZETTE bespeaks for the new firm a thriving business in the future.
Mr. Campbell is a man of rare business attainments and is sure to gain
many new friends for the firm.

PERSONAL.

L. B. Smith, representing Dr. R. B.
Pierce of Buffalo, N. Y., is in town to-day.

George Tuttle, of the pool-selling firm of Whitehead & Co. of San Francisco, came in from the east last night.

S. P. Palmer of the New York branch of the firm of Palmer & Rey of San Francisco is in town looking after the business of his firm.

The warm south wind which has been blowing to-day has settled the snow about town wonderfully. Two or three days more like to-day and there would be scarcely any left.

THE GREAT STORM.

A MOST BRUTAL MURDER.

A Cook Shoots a Waiter Girl
to Death.

A Heavy Gale in England
To-day.

Bob Scott, a Denver Rough, Shoots Pretty Dollie Ryan.

By Associated Press.]
DENVER, Col., Jan. 23.—For over a year and a half Bob Scott, a cook in a Champa street restaurant, has been persecuting Dollie Ryan, a beautiful waitress of 18 years of age, with his attentions. A few days ago Scott in-sulted the girl. She reported him to the proprietor, who discharged him.

Scott swore he would be revenged, and as the girl and her sister were going to the restaurant early this morning to begin their day's work, Scott suddenly stepped from a doorway at the corner of Fourteenth and Champa streets and fired a ball at the girl's breast. Her corset stave caused the ball to glance, when she started to run. The murderer pursued her and fired two balls into her back, one passing through the heart and causing instant death. A crowd surrounded the man, but he stood them off with his revolver and made his escape. The entire police force and a posse of citizens are searching for him, and if captured by the latter, he will probably never live to stand a trial.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 23.—Two Deputy United States Marshals will board the bark Jennie Harkness on her arrival to-day from Rebn, Philippine Islands, with warrants for the arrest of two of the crew, now confined in irons, on the charge of setting fire to the vessel, and having been at the head of a gang whose purpose it was to destroy every vessel loading at Manila. Not long ago nearly every vessel loading at Manila suddenly caught fire, the flames bursting forth instantly from the hatches and decks, as if petroleum had been spread over them.

The attention of the marine underwriters of all the nations of the world was called to the dastardly act. Many of the offenders were caught and punished, and others were sent to their respective Governments for judicial trials.

What Superintendent Fillmore
Says.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 23.—A dispatch was received at railroad headquarters this morning stating that the rotary plow, which was disabled yesterday afternoon, had commenced work at three o'clock this morning, and cleared snow from three miles of track and opened the way for a train from Towles to Shady Run. The plow was still working splendidly at last accounts. Superintendent Fillmore expresses confidence that the blockade will soon be raised.

The Small Man.

An Exchange says: A man was out hunting the other day, and while he was thus engaged, there came up a big rain and he sought shelter in a hollow log; the log became soaked in water and swelled until the opening was too small for the man to get out.
There he was in a dilemma. He quick-came to remember that he was not even a subscriber to his home paper, he felt so small that he crawled out again without any trouble what-ever.

Three Chapters that Contain a Sequel.

There are three chapters in the "Family Physician" which are worthy of special mention, namely,
those on "Diseases of Women,"
"Leases of Infants" and "Care of the sick."

The first of these is a model of its kind. It is chaste in language, contains no disgusting pictures for children to happen on, and is over-curious about, and taken altogether is the most practical, sensible and straight forward treatise upon this delicate subject that has ever been printed.

This chapter alone is worth
many times the cost of the book to every mother, even if it had to be purchased at its regular price.
The other chapters referred to are equally well written and valuable.

Imaginary Ailments of Women.

There is a large class of women in constant trouble about their health, although the same amount of strength in a cheerful woman would be taken as healthiness. You fear to accost her with, "How are you to-day?" for that would be the signal for a shower of complaints. She is always getting a lump on her side, an enlargement of the heart or a curve in the spine. If some of these disorders did not actually come she would be sick all the same—sick of disappointment. If you should find her memorandum book, you would discover in it recipes for the cure of all styles of diseases, from softening of the brain in a woman down to the bots in a horse. Her bedroom shelf is an apothecary-infantum, where medicines of all kinds may be found, from large bottles full of head-wash for diseased craniums down to the smallest vial for the removing of corns from the feet. Thousands of women are being destroyed by this constant suspicion of their health.

Others settle down into a gloomy state from forebodings of trouble to come. They do not know why it is, but they are always expecting that something will happen. They imagine about one presentment a week. A bird flies into the window, or a salt cellar upsets on the table, or a cricket chirps on the hearth, and they shiver all over and expect a messenger speedily to come in hot haste to the front door and rush in with evil tidings.

Do Witt Talmage advises all such through the columns of the Ladies' Home Journal to do away with all forebodings as to the future. Cheer up, disconsolate ones! Go forth among nature. Look up toward the heavens insufferably bright by day, or at night when the sky is merry with ten thousand stars, joining hands of light, with the earth in the ring going round and round with gleam, and dance, and song, making old Night feel young again. Go to the forest, where the woodman's axe rings on the trees, and the solitude is broken by the call of the woodsparrow, and the chevron starting up from among the huckleberry bushes. Go to where the streams leap down off the rocks, and their crystal heels clatter over the white pebbles. Go to where the wild flowers stand drinking out of the mountain-brook and, scattered on the grass, look as if all the oreads has cast their crowns at the foot of the steep. Hark to the fluting of the winds and the long-metre psalm of the thunder! Look at the morning coming down the mountains, and evening drawing aside the curtain from heaven's wall of Jasper, amethyst, sardonyx and chalcedony? Look at this, and then be happy.

The favorite fad of the hour among the luxurious New York women is to have themselves rubbed all over several times a week, after the bath, with cocoa oil. It is undoubtedly good for the nerves, nice for the skin and nourishing. It is a favorite practice with Mrs. Cleveland, who, by the way, decidedly refines and improves with time. She has now the expression she looked as a bride, and her hair and complexion not a bud can beat.

As a rule the average American, especially if from among those who have seen something of the world, is apt to take a philosophic view of the most trying and embarrassing situations. An exemplification of this American trait has been witnessed by Reno people during the past week by the way the snowbound passengers have accepted the situation, scarcely a complaint having been heard from any of them.

For the first time since Henry Ward Beecher occupied the pulpit of the old Plymouth Church, in Brooklyn, in 1847, the congregation installed a new pastor on the 16th inst in the presence of a gathering of distinguished clergymen. Great curiosity was felt concerning the expression of his religious belief by the new pastor, Rev. Dr. Lyman Abbott. The statement of these views were made with much frankness and eloquence, and aroused but one dissenting voice. Dr. Abbott was characteristically frank when, speaking of the Trinity, he said: "As to God's relation with Christ, God is so great and I am so small that I don't know anything about it."

VALUABLE PRESENT.

Every Old as Well as New Subscriber Gets One.

The article the GAZETTE is giving away is no cheap or common place affair, it is something every family ought to have. It is a Medical book for home use. A book that is valuable, and choice in its language. A book of 480 pages. A book which you do not have to keep under lock and key. A well printed book. A well bound book. 50,000 copies have sold in the last six months. It is a $3 book which is given away. OUR PURPOSE—We are making this new departure for two reasons: First. We wish in this way to express to our Old Subscribers our appreciation of their patronage. Second. We hope to induce a large number of New Subscribers to take our paper. OUR PLAN—We shall give a copy of this three dollar book to each one of our subscribers this year, old as well as new, as follows: A new subscriber who sends for the WEEKLY GAZETTE and STOCKMAN for one year at $2.00 in advance, we will give a copy of this $3.00 book. To any old subscriber who will renew his or her subscription for one year, at $2.00 in advance, and get us one new subscriber at $2.00, we will give a copy of the book. In this case, the new subscriber will also get a copy of the book with his year's subscription. To all delinquent subscribers who will pay arrears, and renew for one year, at $2.00 in advance, and give us one new subscriber, at $2.00, we will give a copy of this $3.00 book. The new subscribers will also get a book. Where the book is sent by mail, 20 cents must accompany the order for postage.

FULLY ENDORSED.

The "Gazette's" Premium a First-Class Medical Work.

Having examined the advance sheets of the work entitled "Our Family Physician," I find it a concise and reliable work of diseases and reliable in its therapeutical department.

H. F. COOK, M. D.,
 Professor of Theory and Practice,
 Hahnemann Medical College.

I hereby certify that I have examined a work entitled "Our Family Physician," and find it to be correct in its diagnosis, and in my opinion, worthy of the confidence of the public. H. S. HANN, M. D.

I have examined the advance sheets of "Our Family Physician." It gives me pleasure to recommend the work as correct in its mode of treatment of disease, and it deserves wide circulation.

J. F. COOK, M. D.,
 Professor in Burnett's Medical College, Chicago.

After examining the publication "Our Family Physician," I can fully endorse the opinions expressed of its merits by the above gentlemen. R. A. GUNN, M. D., Professor of the Burnett Medical College.

The book contains a valuable chapter of symptoms, which will aid wonderfully in diagnosing diseases, and the proper remedy is given for Allopathic, Homoeopathic, Eclectic, hydropathic and Herbal treatments.

We have a number of the books on hand, and we invite inspection.

Three Chapters that Contain a Sequel.

There are three chapters in the "Family Physician," which are worthy of special mention, namely, those on "Diseases of Women," "Diseases of Infants" and "Care of the Sick."

The first of these is a model of its kind. It is chaste in language, contains no disgusting pictures for children to happen on and be over-curious about, and taken altogether is the most practical, sensible and straight forward treatise upon this delicate subject that has ever been printed.

This chapter alone is worth many times the cost of the book to every mother even if it had to be purchased at its regular price. The other chapters referred to are equally well written and valuable. See "Our Plan" on 4th page.

NOTICES.

E. C. Leadbetter has a supply of groceries and provisions, ham, bacon and lard.

George Becker's Granite saloon is a pretty comfortable place to spend an occasional half hour during this stinging cold weather.

W. R. Chamberlain of the Riverside Hotel is still confined to the house by sickness, still he is able to look after the comforts of his guests.

Those who have tried the remedy, say that Brooklin's home manufactured capsules are a sure cure for the grippe or any similar complaint.

No matter how long the blockade lasts, no one will go hungry so long as J. J. Becker sells a square meal and a glass of Pacific beer for 12 1/2 cents.

No better assortment of the best family groceries can be found in town than is being carried by J. N. Wallace, who is selling at bedrock prices.

During this blockade the Arcade is about as lively a place as was ever seen in the town for the public season to like the way Lemery treats his patrons.

The holidays being over, you can purchase of C. A. Thurston, scrap, photograph and photograph albums at reduced prices as he does not intend to carry the balance of that stock over until next Christmas.

Nature in Convulsion.

Is terrific. Volcanic eruptions, cyclones, earthquakes are awful and tremendously picturesque, but scarcely desirable to emulate in action and effect by the administration of remedies which produce convulsion and agony in the abnormal portion of the human frame. Such is the effect of the old fashioned violent purgatives happily failing more and more into disuse, and of which Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is the wholesome, pleasant and far more effective procedure. They weakened the intestines—the Bitters invigorates them. They left the bowels inactive, because inactivated by ensuring feebleness. The Bitters on the contrary, and because it enables not forces them to act—a vast and fortunate difference—perpetuates their activity and regularity. The liver is beneficially stimulated, as the kidneys also are, by this medicine, which easily conquers, also, malaria, nervousness and rheumatism.

Should be Boycotted.

The Philadelphia Ledger says: Le-Caron, the spy, is said to be writing a book. Such creatures should not be encouraged by purchases of their publications, and it is sincerely to be hoped that the book as a business speculation, will prove a failure. Here is a good chance for the boycott.

THE QUESTION SETTLED.

This is a faithful picture of the establishment of Thomas Price & Son, at 524 Sacramento St., S. F. As the leading chemists of the west, they were asked to settle the question as to what saraparilla was in fact purely vegetable. We present their report: "We have made careful chemical analyses of several well known brands of saraparilla, and have found them all with the single exception of Joy's to contain iodide of potassium. As a result we are enabled to state positively that Joy's is the only purely vegetable saraparilla now on the market, which has come under our observation." Modern medicine has proven that all ordinary face eruptions are caused by indigestion and sluggish circulation, which call for vegetable alternatives. Instead of mineral salts and purifiers like iodide of potassium, Joy's Vegetable Saraparilla is the first to discard the old notions and proceed under the modern theory. Its cures are the talk of the hour.

Epoch.

The transition from long, lingering and painful sickness to robust health marks an epoch in the life of the individual. Such a remarkable event is treasured in the memory and the agency whereby the good health has been attained is gratefully blessed. Hence it is that so much is heard in praise of Electric Bitters. So many feel they owe their restoration to health to the use of the Great Alternative and Tonic. If you are troubled with any disease of the Kidneys or Liver or Stomach, of long or short standing, you will surely find relief by the use of Electric Bitters. Sold at 50c and $1 per bottle at W. Pinniger's drug store.

The Pulpit and the Stage.

Rev. F. M. Shroud, pastor United Brethren Church, Blue Mound, Kansas, says: "I feel it my duty to tell what wonders Dr. King's New Discovery has done for me. My lungs were badly diseased and my physicians thought I could live only a few weeks. I took five bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery and am sound and well, gaining 26 pounds in weight." Arthur Love, Manager Love's Funny Folks Combination, writes: "After a long and trying trial and convincing evidence, I am confident Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption beats 'em all, and cures when everything else fails. The greatest kindness I can do my many thousands of friends is to use them to try it. Free trial bottles at W. Pinniger's drug store. Regular sizes 50c and $1."

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

The best salve in the world for cuts, bruises, oozes, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, chapped hands, chilblains, corns and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles or no pay required, it is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by Wm. Pinniger.

Advice to Mothers.

Mrs. Wenzel's Scurvy Cure should always be used for children's teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhoea. Twenty-five cents a bottle. 17

THE TRAINS.

Good Prospects of Getting Through To-Night.

Five Hours Work for the Rotary Plow Will Open the Road.

Superintendent Whited, who came down from Truckee on a snow plow this morning reports the trains—1 and 3—at Shady Run and closely following the rotary plow, working this way. He says when he left Truckee this morning that the plow would bore a hole through in about five hours if nothing unforeseen happened, and that the prospects were good for a train from the west some time to-night. The road is open from here to the Summit and everything was working well when he left, and if the wind does not spring up the road will be opened. He anticipates no trouble from the snowsheds breaking down, as the company have a very large force of men shoveling the snow off.

Superintendent Wright of the Sacramento Division sent a train from Sacramento east to intercept the snow-bound passengers and take such back as wanted to return to the city.

The train from the East that should have arrived here night before last got fast in a drift at the Asylum last night at 6 o'clock, and it was 1 o'clock this morning before they arrived in town.

HUMBOLDT ITEMS.

Oregon Beef—Breaking Sheep.

The Winnemucca Silver State of the 21st inst. says:

A drove of 400 beef cattle from French's ranch in Oregon, arrived here yesterday. At the present price of beef should command a high price.

Charles Nelson and J. W. Morris are here working like Turks to save their sheep. They say they have lost none yet. They run snow plows to make trails for the sheep.

The Paradise Valley Company's team, which usually hauls from 25,000 to 30,000 pounds of freight at a load, started for the mill with 8,000 pounds, and had to return on account of the deep snow. If this weather continues much longer supplies will get scarce in outside camps.

John Nelson, who managed to get out of Dun Glen with a team, says the snow is from three to five feet deep in the canyon, and last week it was drifting badly. It is almost impossible to haul hay or heavy supplies of any kind from the road to the village, which is situated in a canyon pretty well up in the range.

A CHILLY MORNING WALK.

A Jovious Washoe Indian Disciplined His Unfaithful Mahala. Early yesterday morning, while the thermometer stood at or below zero, a gentleman coming from the South Side via the V. & T. bridge saw a comparatively young squaw, clad in nothing but a very short undergarment, not even a pair of shoes or stockings, with a burly buck behind her, who about every three or four steps would make a loud exclamation in the Indian dialect and at the same time, with all the physical force of which he was possessed, he would introduce the toe of his snow-covered boot to that portion of the woman's anatomy, which was but barely covered by the abbreviated garment referred to. The supposition is that Mr. Indian was rather more than suspicious that his spouse had been receiving the attentions of some other fellow.

FIRE! FIRE!

The Town Without Water and at the Mercy of the Flames.

The Orr water ditch gave away last night, which leaves the town without water. The Water Company is trying to repair the damage, and will undoubtedly do so to-day or to-morrow, but in the meantime a little advice is not out of place: Examine your chimneys and stovepipes, and be particularly careful about fire, for if one should break out it will burn until there is nothing left to feed the flames, for there is no water to fight fire with, and the sooner the people realize that fact the better.

Making a Sheep Trail.

Monday's Silver State says: Thos. Nelson has a snow-plow drawn by several horses making a trail for his sheep from Grass valley to the railroad here, so that he can feed them hay. On the other hand, Frank Silve, who has sheep on the plains near Golconda, is reported as saying that his flocks are doing well enough on browse, and that his losses are insignificant.

A Good Paper.

The WEEKLY GAZETTE and STOCKMAN, issued to-day, contains a full account of the storm and the condition of livestock on the ranges, besides editorial and local matter of interest to our people. It is an excellent number, and dirt cheap—only $2 per year, with "Our Family Physician," a $3 book, thrown in.

Another Delayed Train.

Last evening the west-bound express, which was expected here at 6 o'clock, struck a snow-bank about one and a half miles east of town. An engine was sent from here to render what assistance she could, and about 8 o'clock the express, with 105 passengers and two cars of mail, was released.

Two Hospital Deaths.

Tuesday night an Irishman by the name of Johnson, aged 55 years, died at the County Hospital, and last night a man died by the name of D. H. Russell, a native of New York, who was brought from Wadsworth with a bad case of pneumonia. The Hospital still contains 20 patients, all of whom are in bed.

Local and General Intelligence.

It has been decidedly warmer to-day. Stockmen are wearing long faces just at present.

A large number of cattle are being fed on the Meadows.

There are about 350 snowbound passengers at this place now.

Mrs. Taylor, a nurse, had the misfortune to slip and break her leg a day or two since.

A man by the name of Nelson is said to have 6,000 head of sheep near Wadsworth, which he will send to this point by rail.

A Chenook wind would be worth everything to Western Nevada, but it would not help the eastern part of the State out much.

This morning at sunrise the thermometer here stood at 24° above zero and the barometer stood at a little above the average.

Col. Hardesty is reported to have about 6,000 head of cattle near Wells with nothing to eat. They stand a slim show in two feet and a half of snow.

News from the sheepmen in the eastern part of the State could not be worse. Reports are that by far the larger half of the bands are already dead.

Yesterday Grove Holcomb had 2,000 of his sheep shipped from Wadsworth to Reno, and he drove them to his Truckee Meadows ranch, where they will be fed.

Don't commit suicide! If you have dyspepsia, with heartburn, indigestion, distress in the stomach, no appetite, and are all worn out—but take Ho-D's Sarsaparilla, it creates an appetite, and gently regulates the digestion. Sold by druggists.

RUSTLING FOR FEED.

Russell & Bradley Up and Doing to Save Their Cattle.

John Bradley returned from the Sink of the Carson last night, where he has been to buy hay for his Elko stock. He bought all the hay for sale and will, as soon as he can get cars, ship 6,000 head of cattle to Wadsworth and drive them across the country to the sink. He is feeding at Elko 11,000 head and has a large amount of hay in transit from California, which will carry what he leaves on his Elko ranch through. His reports of the condition of things in that section of the country are extremely discouraging, but his firm are up and doing, and by taking matters in hand in time, they will be able to save the majority of their stock.

PERSONAL.

A. A. Barotau, traveling passenger agent for Eastern roads, is in town, and favored the GAZETTE with a call this morning.

David Cox, a commission merchant from Duluth, Minn., is among the snowbound passengers that are awaiting an opportunity of going west.

Judge Bigelow returned from Elko last night. When asked by GAZETTE reporter what the condition was in that county, he replied, "My God! don't ask me!" which was, to say the least, expressive of the true condition of things.

A Missing Train.

The N.-C.-O. train did not make the trip yesterday, and is stuck in the snow somewhere north of here. A snowplow started out this morning to hunt for the missing train, but at last accounts it had not got a great way from town, owing to the road being badly drifted.

A MURDEROUS GANG.

A bloody tragedy at Galveston, Texas.

A Galveston dispatch of the 21st inst. reads as follows: A terrible tragedy was enacted in the Courthouse to-day, in which Kyle Terry, nephew of the late Judge David Terry, was instantly killed and two men badly wounded. The killing was the outcome of troubles which resulted some time ago in a bloody battle between some of the citizens of Richmond. Some months ago Terry, who was Tax Assessor of Fort Bend county, and a member of the band known as the Woodpecker party, had a difficulty with the Gibson boys, all members of the Jaybird party. Five weeks later Terry met one of the Gibson brothers in Wharton and killed him. When the case came up for trial Terry got a change of venue to Galveston county.

Judge Crocker, convicted for murder in Fort Bend county, also secured a change of venue to this county, and the cases were set down for to-day, and witnesses for both the prosecution and defense brought to this city, being a large number of the adherents of the Jaybird and Woodpecker factions. About 10 A. M. Kyle Terry, his brother, Captain David Terry of California, Judge Parker, Judge Weston, Dr. Gale and some others entered the front door of the Courthouse. Terry turned to the left toward the stairway and had just reached the second step when a shot was fired. It struck him under the right arm and came out of his left breast and literally tore his heart to shreds. There was a moment's lull, and then four or five shots, fired from different directions. One passed through the arm of Judge Weston of Fort Bend county; another through the leg of Henry Tittle, a Galvestonian. Eye witnesses saw that three men were shooting, naming them as Val Gibson, who killed Terry, and whose brother Terry had killed in Wharton, Dan Ragsdale and young Mitchell, all from Fort Bend county, and all Jaybirds. Immediately after the shooting six arrests were made, the principal one being Val Gibson, who fired the first and only fatal shot. He is a young man about 25 years of age, and treats the matter coolly. Gibson was the oldest man in the attacking party, the four other men being under 21 years. It was their intention to kill Weston and Parker, as well as Terry. Judge Parker is a member of the State Legislature from Fort Bend county, and is charged with having been the cause of the trouble in Richmond. His trial for murder comes up to-morrow.

A WAXEN COVERING.

The Late Empress Augusta's Method of Preserving Her Beauty.

The Empress Augusta was famous in her younger days for her personal beauty and especially for her magnificent shoulders. In the later years of her life her beauty of feature had disappeared, but to the day of her death the wonderful shoulders remained the same. And court gossip tells the following story about it: The Empress had always been excessively proud of her beauty, and so, when the unkind years began to leave their trace upon her, she devised the most skillful aids from art.

For her neck and shoulders—indeed, for the entire upper body—she had a waxen covering made which perfectly simulated nature in coloring, texture and outline. This armor once assumed she was never known to remove it, and indeed, for many years, the fact of its being the product of art was a matter of suspicion rather than actual knowledge. Certainly came about in this way: One of the young ladies of the court of an experimental turn of mind slipped slyly up behind the august presence one day and gave just the tiniest touch of a needle on the smooth white shoulders. The Empress did not stir. She pushed a little harder, still the Empress did not wince, and court speculation was silenced forever.

Lake Tahoe Weather.

A note received last evening from McKinney's, Lake Tahoe, reports the rainfall for the season to have been 11 inches and the snowfall 282 inches, and that the lake has raised 13 1/2 inches. The present average depth of snow is 10 feet on a level.

Publication of Summons.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE State of Nevada, in and for the county of Washoe. The State of Nevada sends to D. S. Hickman, greeting: You are hereby required to appear in an action commenced against you as defendant by Noma S. Hickman as plaintiff, in the District Court of the State of Nevada, in and for the county of Washoe, and answer the complaint therein within ten days after the service on you of this summons (exclusive of the day of service), if served in said county, or twenty days, if served out of said county, but within said district, and in all other cases forty days, or judgment by default will be taken against you according to the prayer of said complaint. The said action is brought to recover against you a judgment and decree of divorce on the complaint of the plaintiff herein, in which complaint she alleges that you and her were united in marriage at Reno, in the county of Washoe, State of Nevada, January 27, 1888; that you and plaintiff have not lived cohabitated as husband and wife since about August 30, 1888; that you have not at any time since said marriage contributed to her support; that you went away from Reno, Nevada, in the month of November, 1888; that you abandoned her plaintiff about August 30th, aforesaid, and have not since said August 30th recognized her as your wife; that she charges against you abandonment and failure to support her and a failure to provide for her the common necessities of life for more than one year preceding her complaint made and filed, which failure to support and provide for her is not a result of poverty that could not have been avoided by you by ordinary industry. She claims against you the custody of your minor child, on the ground that you are incompetent to care for him or to have dominion over him, all of which will more fully appear from the complaint which is on file in the office of the Clerk of said Court at Reno, in said county, and to which you are especially referred.

And you are further notified, that if you fail to appear and answer said complaint, the said plaintiff will apply to the Court for the relief demanded and for costs of suit.

In testimony whereof, I, William Webster, have hereunto set my hand and the seal of said Court at Reno, Nevada, this 15th day of January, A. D. 1890.

WILLIAM WEBSTER,
Attorney for Plaintiff.

BEATS THE FAITH-CURE.

A Toothache Remedy Which Kills or Cures in One Minute.

There were five men of us and three women, besides the driver, who were staging it between two towns in Kansas. We set out at seven o'clock in the morning for an all-day's ride, and had not made over two miles when the oldest man in the crowd, who was from the Nutmeg State, and built on Yankee principles, suddenly exclaimed:

"By gosh to squash!"

"What's up?" asked one of the lot.

"The toothache! She's hit me in that lower double tooth, and I'm in for a bushel of trouble."

"Just try and not think of it," suggested one of the women. "Keep your thoughts on your family."

He tried it for two or three minutes, and a smile of affection came to his face. It suddenly died away, however, to be replaced by a look of ferocity as he yelled out:

"Hang my family, but I don't work! Has any body got any camphor?"

Nobody had. We hadn't even a drop of whiskey. One man had some tobacco, but the Yankee couldn't go it. The ache, once started, grew worse, and as he began growling a second woman suggested:

"I've heard say as imagination has all to do with pains. Suppose you imagine you are sound asleep and dreaming of angels and such."

He tried it, and for a minute or two the ache let up. Then it struck him with a jump, and he seized his jaw and yelled:

"Jerusha Jackson! but I'll be gaul'd if I ain't got to die right here! Driver, stop the wagon!"

It was stopped, and he wanted to know how far it was to a town. He was told it was twenty miles, and he fetched a groan a rod long and said:

"It's got to be done! Driver, come down here!"

"What do you want?"

"You've got to knock it out! You are the biggest man in the lot, and I guess you kin hit a purty fair blow. Give me a lifter right here on the jaw."

"Do you mean it?"

"Sartin, and don't waste any more time. Spit on yer hand, haul off and sock me one right on that tooth. I want it knocked into a cocked hat."

"But you will go with it."

"Can't help that. Now, imagine that I've called you a double-barreled liar, and whale away."

The driver drew back and then landed on the exact spot, and the Yankee tumbled head over heels in the grass. He was up in a minute, however, and he put his thumb and finger into his mouth and pulled out two teeth and shouted:

"Whoop! It's one extra, but that's all right! Shake, old man, and then drive on with the band wagon! We—whoop! Toothache gone—pain gone—happiness come to stay! Here's a dollar, and if you want to brag around about knocking a feller fourteen feet I won't say a word!"—N. Y. Sun.

OUR CRITIC.

We understand our paper has been criticised by that slow-footed old hypocrite, Squeak. As no one ever listens to what the gossiping old imbecile has to say, we shall not give him the showing up we had intended, but shall content ourselves with relating an anecdote on him.

We had always noticed what a peculiar white color his beard was, and how it seemed to continue down past his collar.

Our suspicions being aroused we made some inquiries, and found our critic had been lifted out of Nebraska on a fence rail. Before leaving, the thoughtful citizens presented him with a thick, tight-fitting suit of tar and feathers, which he has never been able to remove. He now goes around passing off the feathers on his face for a gray beard.

Readers, this is the man who passes judgment on the best paper in the United States.

AN EMBEZZLEMENT.

Yesterday afternoon we were called away on business, and asked Charley Clark to mind office until we returned. When we left, one of our high grade cigars, off which we had only taken a few puffs, was lying on our desk; when we returned it was gone. We asked Mr. Clark what had become of our property, and he replied with some embarrassment that he didn't know. Of course every body knows it isn't the loss of the cigar that we mind; it's the dishonesty that makes us hot.

Charley, the finger of guilt seems to point to you.—C. S. McNeir, in Time.

HUMAN EXISTENCE.

Sensible and Encouraging Comments on the Problem of Living.

Are not the lives of most of us a matter difficult of solution? We drift along aimlessly with the tide, or we rush along in the current, and if we strike a whirlpool the waters close over us and we are lost sight of forever. Which is best, to drift, or run the risk of the rapids? In an easy, aimless life, we are of no special use; we slip away and the niche we have filled is so small that it is entirely lost to sight, but we escape a great amount of care and worry. The disheartening defeats which arise from ambitious resolves are wholly unknown to us, and we are quietly content. On the other hand we struggle. We are continually "kicked against the pricks." Sometimes we grow defiant, and if disappointments harden our nature, then it were better had we drifted with the tide. Is it not the most difficult part of the problem to be able to adjust our lives that they may fit the groove made for them, to be helpful to others at the same time we are working for our own cause? To have charity for the sinful while we condemn vice, to so adjust our pleasures that they may brighten life, but not mar its existence?

ABOUT EYE-STONES.

What They Are and Where Most of Them Come From.

The little bodies called eye-stones are really portions of the covering of certain shell-fish. They are placed at the opening of the shell, and serve to close the entrance when the animal draws itself within. They are of various kinds, but those used as eye-stones are hard, stony bodies, about the size of split peas, one-third to one-sixth of an inch in diameter, a little longer than broad, having one surface plane, and the other convex.

When they have been worn by the action of the sea, they are very smooth and shining, but in their natural state the convex surface is covered with fine markings. They have then a brownish color in the center, shading off to white at the margin.

Like other shells, they are composed of carbonate of lime. When placed in a weak acid, such as vinegar, a chemical change takes place, carbonic acid gas is given off, and in its escape produces the movements which are popularly supposed to show that the stone is "alive."

When one of these stones is placed under the eye-lid, at the outer corner, the natural movements of the lid in winking push it gradually toward the inner side, and when it comes in contact with the mote which is causing the irritation, this is carried along and finally expelled with it.

The belief that such stones have a peculiar detective power, and move about in the eye until they find and remove the irritating substance for which they have been "sent," has no foundation in fact.

Eye-stones are deservedly going out of use, for they merely furnish a mechanical means of doing in a clumsy manner what a little skill will accomplish much more certainly. Few of them, indeed, are seen at the present day, and these are said to be brought by sailors from the Bahamas and elsewhere.

It is interesting to know that in the lining membrane of the stomach of crawfish there are found small bodies which go under the name of "crab-eyes," and look not unlike the true eye-stones. They have sometimes been mistaken for them, and presumably would serve a similar purpose.—Youth's Companion.

HERE'S A GOOD YARN.

And It is So Very Original That It Must Be True.

A correspondent of Forest and Stream had been told that there were trout in Big Spring creek "that long" (indicating something less than a yard), and so, he writes, having no fish-line, I twisted a formidable cable of black linen thread, and for some hours I patiently waited on the surface of the current, and as I watched it drift down over a deep green pool under a ledge of rock an enormous trout rose majestically, much as I have seen porpoises roll, and gathered in the grasshopper, thereby putting an end to my doubts at once.

Well, thinks I to myself, that's a little the biggest trout I ever saw or heard of, and I must certainly make another effort. So, with many misgivings, I set about twisting another line of white thread, when suddenly it occurred to me that if I could make him jump like that again, so coolly and easily, I would have time enough to pit a rifle bullet mightily close to him before he could settle back to the safety of deep waters. Shooting trout on the rise, too, would certainly be original if not exactly lawful.

So I threw away the thread and hooks and, taking my rifle along, caught another grasshopper. This I threw just as I had thrown the other, and the moment it struck the water I sighted it and followed it along as it drifted over the same pool. As before, there was a gleam of scarlet and olive green, the hopper was gone, and before I knew it I had discharged the rifle into the mighty swirl. No result at first, and I thought what a fool I was to suppose that I could shoot a jumping fish with a rifle, but presently a huge pink belly made its appearance, coming to the surface, and there floated my fish, larger even than he had appeared before. I rushed in on a shallow riffle and seized him as he came down. Oh! such a beauty and not a bruise on him. He must have been entirely under water before the bullet got there, but he had received such a shock that he hardly moved after it. I had no means of weighing him, but his length was 20 1/2 inches.

LIFE IN SORRY CITY.

Some of the Trials and Pastimes of the Editor of the "Scalping Knife."

A SPLENDID PIECE OF MARKSMANSHIP.

Last night about twelve o'clock we were awakened from our sound slumber by unaccountable noises coming from the direction of our chicken-coop.

Suspecting something wrong we lifted our double-barreled bird-gun from its rack over our couch (where it always hangs heavily loaded) and stole noiselessly to the window. Seeing the dim outline of a man moving about, we raised our piece and fired. Judging from the shrill sounds of distress that followed we think we must have hit our man. He bolted, however, before we could inquire with another shot.

Early this morning, as we were passing Jack Taror's house, we noticed Jack was eating his breakfast from off his mantel-piece, and that he did not put much cheeriness into his "good morning" to us. We regard the matter as a singular coincidence.

We don't want to make any charges against individuals; all we want to say to our fellow townsmen (to prevent any misunderstanding in the future) is this:

HUMOROUS.

Said the cook to the footman—"It's a great use that pepper has in the kitchen." "Yes," was the reply, "but the nutmeg has a greater."—Merchant Traveler.

—Wife—"What on earth are you doing with those beautiful three-dollar hand-sewed shoes you bought yesterday?" Husband—"Trying to drive the pegs down."—Time.

—Slumber—"Just got back from Kansas, have you? Well, how does the land lie down there?" Silmer—"Not half so bad as the boomers do. Lend me a dime, will you?"—Lawrence American.

—Maiden—"What can a woman do when a man that has won her affection refuses to marry her?" Lawyer—"Is he rich?" "No; hasn't a cent." "She can appoint a day of general thanksgiving and invite both families to participate."—N. Y. Weekly.

—Mrs. Brown—"When you send the vegetables home I wish you wouldn't always put the big ones on top." Grocer—"I—er—I—er." Mrs. Brown—"Oh, I don't blame you in the least. I just spoke of it because the janitor of our flat always scrapes off the top of the basket for his own use before he sends it up the elevator."—Life.

—First Tramp—"Met a old feller up the road yesterday that thinks that when a man dies his soul goes into some machine or other. Think he's got his own grand-daddy in a old pump." Second Tramp—"Well, that there ain't such a bad notion. Just think of a feller been turned into a beer keg when he died. Eh, Jerry?"—Terre Haute Express.

—Johnnie, you must stop playing with those Murchison children across the way. They are common, and their father is a nobody." "A nobody?" echoed Johnnie. "Why, I guess you don't know him, ma! He ate twenty hard-boiled eggs in twenty minutes, and his likeness was in last week's Police Scrapings. Next week he's going over Niagara Falls in a barrel."—N. Y. Ledger.

—Mrs. Mushroom—"Well, altogether, I am not so very sorry that I have not any ancestors." Miss Mushroom—"Why, mamma, I thought you rather regretted that we had none that we know of." Mrs. Mushroom—"I have changed my mind. I have been to call on Mrs. Montague Devereaux and she showed me all the portraits of her ancestors." Miss Mushroom—"And didn't you like their looks?" Mrs. Mushroom—"Oh, the people was good enough, I s'pose, but I wouldn't no ancestors that dressed without no regard for style."—America.

FOR ALL IT'S WORTH.

A Decidedly Narrow Escape for Chicago's City Treasurer.

Old Mrs. Bradshaw, of Indiana, came with an excursion party to Chicago the other day; but being independent, and moreover, of a somewhat exploring disposition, she broke away from the excursion party and started out alone to view the city. She got on a North side cable car and at once began a conversation with the conductor.

"These things run along right cute, don't they?"

"Gettin' to run putty well," the conductor answered, as he rung up a fare.

"They tell me that there's a big iron rope under here that pulls the thing along."

"Yes, a cable."

"Well, it's right cute, anyhow. These cars run in all sorts of weather, don't they?"

"They are supposed to."

"Well, it's a great help to the people, I warrant you, and I guess many a person would have to walk if it wasn't for these things. Where are we going now?"

"In the tunnel."

"Well, this is the cutest thing I ever saw. But it took a power of diggin' an' gougin' jest to go under a street or two, didn't it?"

"It goes under the river."

"What?" she exclaimed.

"I say the tunnel goes under the river."

"You don't mean to say that we are goin' down under the river?"

"Yes. Ships are passing over us right now."

"Stop," she demanded; "stop the vehicle right here. Stop, I tell you."

"I can't stop here and you couldn't get out very well even if I did. Don't be scared, there's no danger."

"I know there is; I just know it. I just know that dirty, stinkin', good-for-nothin' water is goin' to pour right down on me an' make me look like a fright. I just know I won't be fit to look at, an' I've got on my best clothes, too. Wish I hadn't come to the fetch-take place. Ah, we are coming out sure enough," she said, after a few moments' silence.

"Well, it's a good thing, for if that water was to pour on me I'd sue this town for all it's worth."—Arkansas Traveler.

CASTING A HOROSCOPE.

How the Task Was Performed by the Astrologers of Ancient Rome.

The general idea in casting a horoscope was that the first hour of each day was presided over by the heavenly body that belonged to that day, as set forth in the French names for the days of the week, viz: The sun for Sunday, the moon for Monday, Mars for Mardi (Tuesday), Mercury for Mercredi (Wednesday), Jupiter for Jeudi (Thursday), Venus for Vendredi (Friday) and Saturn for Samedi (Saturday).

The second hour of the day belonged to the second in this order, and so on, repeating these seven deities as often as was necessary until the birth hour was reached.

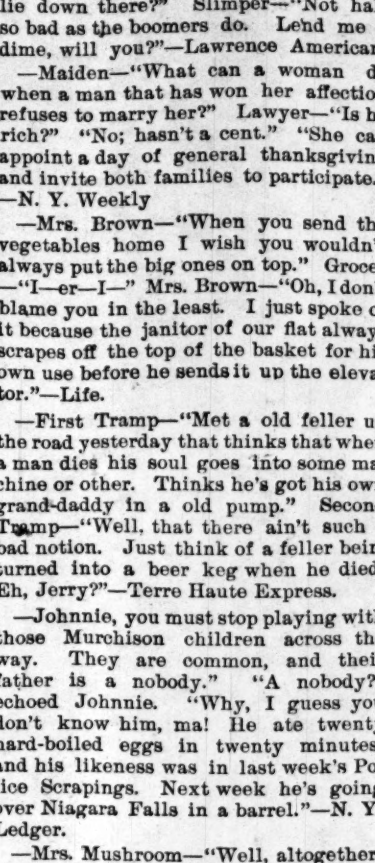

If, therefore, we wish to cast the horoscope of a child born at 9 a. m. on March 2, 1890, we observe first that the day was Tuesday and that the sun rose on that day at 6:34. The first hour, 6:34 to 7:34, belongs to Mars; the second, 7:34 to 8:34, to Mercury; the third, 8:34 to 9:34, to Jove, and the child, being born under the influence of Jove, will necessarily have a jovial disposition.

A more extended and laborious casting of the horoscope consists in calculating backwards to find the exact position of the planets at the hour of birth, and what their relative influence might thus have been upon each other. The heavens being regularly divided into sections, if Saturn should be found in the influence of Jupiter, his saturnine influence would, of course, qualify the jovial influence of the lord of that house.
